superior customer experience

barchart

Hosted digital content and tools designed to delight your customers

Responsive

Responsive, mobile-first design is what we do – for our own solutions as well as for partners

- Built with the latest technology utilizing web sockets, HTML5, and a mobile-first design
- Present your customers with an engaging user experience across any device at any time

Accessible

Natively accessible solutions built, tested, and deployed for our demanding customers

- Meet regulatory requirements for your customer-facing web content
- Reach prospects with solutions that are accessible – regardless of the end-user

Scalable

Redundant infrastructure that grows with your business – always fast, always secure

- Our next-generation solutions were designed and built for the cloud
- Your business-critical tools and content will always be available regardless of traffic

We deliver the tools. You focus on the customer.

Portfolios

Our API-driven portfolio system is flexible, scalable, and is supported by our deep history of securities prices and corporate actions.

Charting

Responsive charting with built-in institutional grade indicators, studies, and analytical tools – we are continuously adding features and functionality.

Calculators

Tools and modules that deliver the functionality required by your end-users. Barchart can build custom logic for your needs or deliver predefined modules.

Alerts

API-based alerting system that is robust, flexible, and scalable. We can deliver these alerts through email, text, and any other medium required.

Screeners

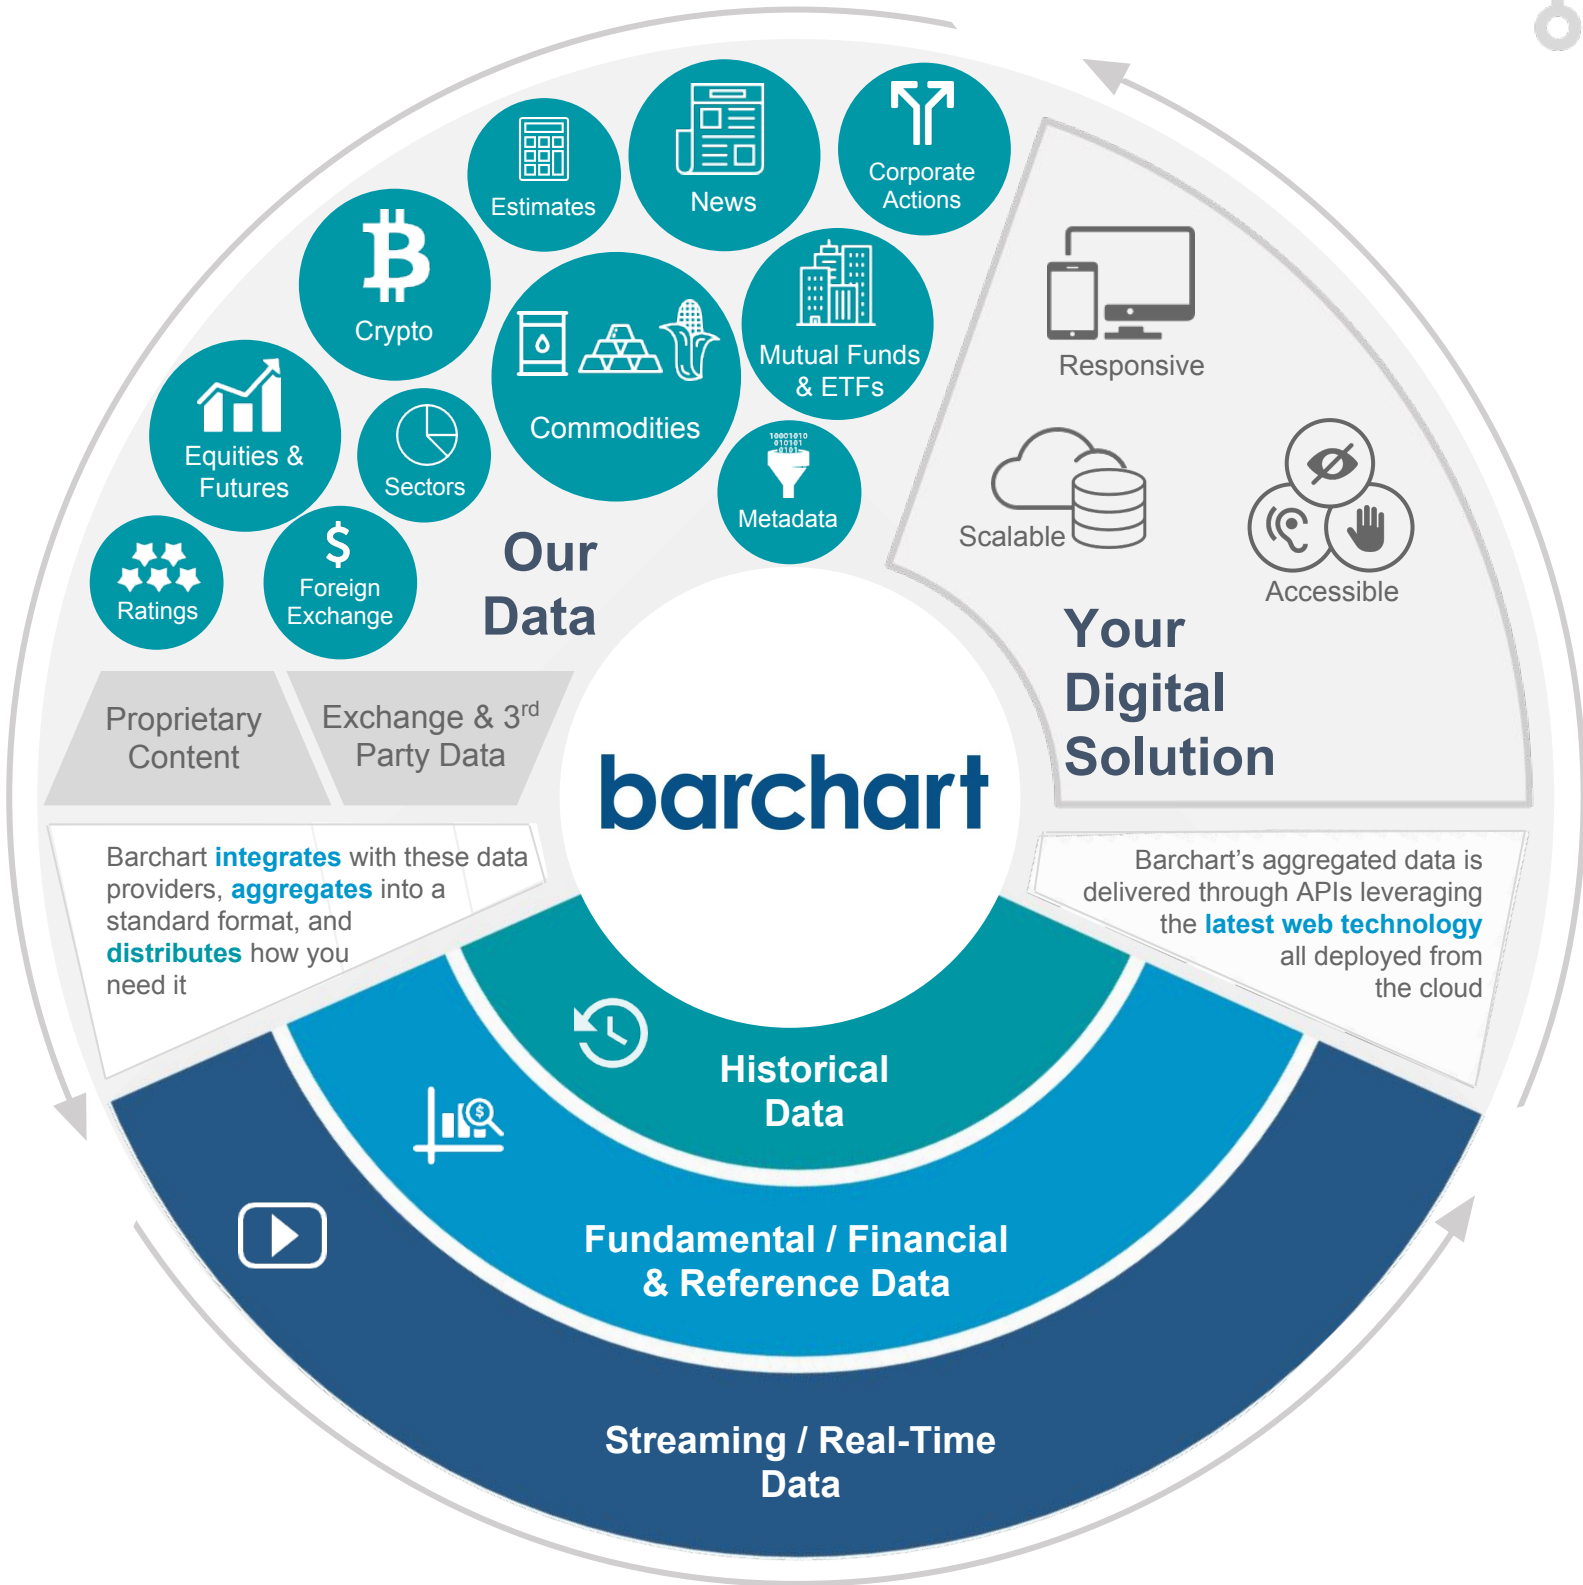

Our flexible screening tools help your users find answers fast and keep them engaged with your platform - can be tailored to meet your needs.

Data Platforms

HTML5-based streaming market data platforms are available to be delivered with the look and feel of your brand – enabling upsell into a premium offering.
